THE CORCORAN GALLERY OF ART, WASHINGTON, Oct. 14, 189).

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14, 189).]

Mr. Richard L. Carner:

Dear Sir—Since I have been personally interected in sit I have felt the need of some sort of an art class in Alexandria, suited to persons of imited time and means, and it is with this idea that I write to sak you if it would be probable that the School Board of Alexandria would feel sifficient interest in the enterprise to give the sac of one room in one of the school buildings two laws. What I propose is to give two lessons a work from 7 to 9 p. m to a limited class for persons practical talent but having no opportunities for cultivating the same. In this I will be assisted by my friend, Misi Katharine Criticher of whose artistic ability you have doubtless heard.

We will furn'sh the plaster models and give the instruction from of the ree, and ask of the School Board the use of a heated from for the purpose. He ping that the suggestion will meet with the favorable consideration of the board, I am respectfully yours, Marketta Minnigerode.

H- said it was so generous an offer and so much to the public advantage that be mought's should be unhesitating y accepted.

Mr. Wm. F. Carne moved that the public of the board in the name of the people of Acxaud. and that the committee on subsolinouses and furniture he authorized. ernish them a room in Peabody building for a purpose of the Free School of Art. The Clerk presented an application from he Alexandria Dramatic Club for the renting of Pashody Hali for practice and enter-After some conversation on the subject and a statement by the Superintendent that the hall had received great injury from a former renting of the sort, which the renters were, probably, unable to prevent, it was Resolved, That it is the settled policy of his board that the public school buildings can be used for purposes of free public education only, and that the offer to rent is therefore respectfully declined.

THE GRAND FAIR at Armory Hall under the management of the King's Daughters was in teight literally packed, many of the most substantial citizens being present, showing the prevailing interest taken in the leftmary improvement. But all these were quite forgotten and deserted when time was announced, by placard, for the chords from 'La Mascotte." This and he subsequent chorus from the "Chimes of " noder the leadership of Miss Virginia Evans, was a most pronounced success, evidencing what good training, under the skillful management, can schieve. Both numbers were received with enthusiastic encores, and although both were retant to permit the stogers to retire. The young ladies of the chorus were becomingly attired and with their Normandy caps of white muslin, were the embodiment of simplicity and grace. The gentlemen, a's), acquitted themselves commendably. Reserved seats were filled and "standing room pasted for the delectation of the guests, the mestic Back-bird Pie," which will no doubt be found well spiced with amusement. A special feature of to-night's entertainment will be the Chicago World'e Fair.

Tugs were quickly sent to the vessel's side, and kept her a raight until sufficient ballast had been pisced on the light ade to even her up When in position she bobbed first to one side and then the other, resembling a huge Within a few weeks the machinery be in position, and then there will be a trial trip down the bay. Mr. Feyer thinks she will go to Europe in four days ere long.

RAILBOAD ACCIDENT .- About 11:45 o'clock last night a flit car became detached from t freight train which was being shifted at Manassas, and drifting down the track was run into by freight train No. 21. The car was smashed, the engine of the freight train was damaged and three cars were derailed. Fireman Kelly was badly stratched about the face and hands and Engineer Toomas Collin sustained trifl og bruises. Conductor Firzsimmons was on the detached flat car and tried to prevent the collision, but seeing that he could not stop the car jumped and escaped tojury. Drs. O'Brien and Ashby went to Manasses to attend Fireman Kally, whose injuries, it is said, are not serious. The accident caused but little delay in the running of the trains. After the wreck the can of the engine caught fire and was

NEW YORK. Nov. 7 .- The opening prices in the NEW YORK. Nov. 7.—The opening prices in the stock market this merning were generally from ½ to ½ per cent. lower than the finals of last evening. The low prices invited support, and there was good buying in the early trading, and while the market was extremely foverish there was a rally which reached lar.e fractions in some cases. The market later lost its strength, and pices generally went back to the level of the opening figures and even below in many instances, and at 11 o'clock bus ness was still fairly active and heavy at about opening figures.
